GLEANINGS

BY JON ZARIS

Well, folks, we have run completely out of readable news, and we are forced to turn our weekly harangue into a column of mere personal and society notices. Hope you like them.

Miss Ann Driggers and Yandell Ewing spent last week end in Dothan, Alabama, where they visited friends and relatives.

Miss Christine Russell is suffering with a stiff neck this week. If it doesn't get better she will probably go to Nashville over the week-end to seek relief.

"Red" Holland spent the week-end in Bowling Green with his parents and others. He returned to Vanderbilt on Monday.

Mr. Hotsy Perkins went visiting the other night, and got lost in the dark. He and his date strayed into the wrong back yard and were directed by the residents of the house.

Buster Garrison and party discovered some prowlers in the back yard the other night after the picture show. Mr. Garrison says that the prowlers were evidently trying to tamper with the swing in the back yard. When discovered, the pair of prowlers, jumped from the swing and escaped over the back fence.

Mr. Garrison is not sure what the prowlers were doing, but he says he is sure that one of them was disguised as a woman.

It is rumored that Professor Roxy is going to take a certain party to the show. It is being done as a joke, just to "show that Gleaner person" that he is a little bit too smart.

"Red" Holland is expected home from Vanderbilt this week to attend the Big Four dance at the Armory Friday night.

Miss Christine Russell will not go to Nashville next week-end, after all.

The new jail in Nashville is being enlarged to cope with week-end rowdies.

Check Travelstead, Joe Lafferty, John Thomas, Howard Robey and Wylie Chapman plan to go to Nashville on business next Saturday. They will return before Monday if they are not detained by their business.

Well, cheerio—

KENTUCKY CLUB OUTING SET FOR MONDAY EVENING

The Kentucky Club of the Business University has planned its last entertainment of the school year and all arrangements are made for a gala occasion next Monday night.

At five o'clock Monday afternoon a caravan of trucks will leave the school campus for Beech Bend, where the festivities will be held, and the crowd will not return until about ten that night.

The program includes, in addition to a delightful supper, an evening entirely devoted to merry-making, and there will be ample opportunity for swimming, dancing, short entertainment features, and time will be allowed for indulgence in the individual inclinations toward bridge and other diversions.

The club has planned facilities to accommodate a limited number of guests, and requests that all reservations be made in advance. Tickets purchased from club members will include the reservation fee, transportation, supper, and other features.

SCHOOL TERMS MOVE RAPIDLY TOWARD EXAMS

Semesters At Both Colleges Will Terminate Shortly

Final Exams in Immediate Offing

Summer Terms In Course Of Being Organized

The present collegiate term in Bowling Green will terminate in both of the local Universities about the first of June. Registration for the summer semesters in both institutions will begin immediately thereafter.

Final examination on College Heights will begin on Monday, May 29, and the examination rooms will close on Thursday, June 1, which is Alumni Day on the Hill.

Registration for the summer session on the Hill will begin on Monday, June 5, and classes will be held Tuesday, June 6, immediately after the first summer chapel exercises.

The Business University's examinations will terminate about the second day of June and registration for the summer term will begin the following week.

Western will offer two semesters this summer, each of five six-day weeks, during which all three-hour courses will meet twice every day. Laboratory-Science courses and several Academic courses will run for a straight ten week period with no recess or mid-term break.

All departments in the Business University will offer the usual summer terms, and all departments will accept new students.

Both Universities report that the outlook for summer registration is very satisfactory, and preparations are being made for large enrollments.

PROFESSOR FRANK FAULKINBERRY IS FATALLY WOUNDED

Head Coach At Middle Tennessee Well Known At Western

Professor Frank Faulkinberry, 44, teacher of latin and coach of major athletics at Middle Tennessee Teachers College and former All-Southern tackle on the University of the South's football team, was found shot to death in the garage of his home last Saturday.

Police said it was a case of suicide, but learned of no motive.

Prof. Faulkinberry, who had been at Middle Tennessee for more than ten years, was well known to members of the faculty of Western Teachers College and to students at the local school during that period. He has brought at least one of his athletic teams here every year for almost every year since he became head coach at the Murfreesboro school.

FATHER OF TEACHER AT B. U. SUCCUMBS

S. E. Cranfill, 1117 Magnolia avenue, left Tuesday morning for Lawrenceburg, Ky., where he was called after the death of his father, G. A. Cranfill, which occurred at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning. He was 77 years old and had been in ill health for some time, but his death was unexpected.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed. Mr. Cranfill is a member of the faculty of the Bowling Green Business University.

To Play College Finals, May 30th

CHARLIE AGNEW

Charlie Agnew and his orchestra of thirteen artists will be featured at the College Finals to be given at the Armory Tuesday evening, May 30th.

This orchestra is now playing at the Hotel Netherland-Plaza, Cincinnati and may be heard every night the remainder of this week over WLW at 11 o'clock.

Charlie and His Boys were featured for a year at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago; Trianon Ballroom, Chicago; Terrace Gardens, Hotel Morrison, Chicago; Schroeder Hotel, Milwaukee.

The College Finals will mark the closing of another collegiate year and will be one of the most brilliant social events of the season. There will be many out of town guests in attendance.

LIGE SMITH FANT, FORMERLY WESTERN STUDENT, IS DEAD

Lige Smith Fant, 28 years of age, died last Friday night at 6:15 o'clock at the City Hospital following a brief illness with pneumonia which developed after an operation for appendicitis several days ago.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 Sunday afternoon at the residence at 1025 Elm street with burial following in Fairview Cemetery.

Mr. Fant was well known here. He formerly attended school at Western and Ogden Colleges in this city and later was employed here. He spent some time in Indiana but had returned here recently.

HILLTOPPERS TO PLAY THREE MORE BASEBALL GAMES

Coach Diddle has announced that his diamond squad is slated to engage in just three more horsehide struggles before the school season ends.

The club will play a double-header in Bowling Green Saturday with Lindsay-Wilson, and will go to Louisville on May 26 for a tussle with the University of Louisville.

The probable lineups for the games are not entirely scheduled, but Handley Hall, moundsman, and Hugh Poland, catcher, will probably comprise the battery for the curtain raiser with Lindsay Wilson. West or Farmer will probably hurl the pellet in the second scrap.

WESTERN TRACK SQUADS ENTER DANVILLE MEET

Coach Leavell will take several members of his Varsity and Frosh track squads to the State meet which will be held at Danville next Saturday.

It has been announced that enough men will be taken to provide Western entrants for all events but no list of eligibles is as yet available.

BIG FOURS HOLD VICTORY BALL IN ARMORY TOMORROW

Leon Spillman And His Orchestra Will Play

The Big Four Debating Society of the Business University will stage their Victory Ball tomorrow night at ten o'clock in the local Armory. The dance is given in honor of the recent Big Four victory over the Corecos in the annual debate between the two societies.

Leon Spillman and his Orchestra will play from ten o'clock until two-thirty Saturday morning, and the committee has announced six "No-breaks" and a possible special dance for the club members.

A Grand March for the members of the society will be one of the features of the evening, and the dance promises to attract an exceptional crowd.

Admission will be by bid only, and invitations are being distributed among the students of both Universities by a committee of Big Fours. An invitation list has been compiled, and the Big Fours have announced that anyone on the invitation list who has not received their bid may get their card from the bid committee.

The invitation must be presented at the door before admission will be allowed. This will be the last club ball of the year, and it is reported that the students of the city are highly anticipant of its success.

Wylie Chapman, Editor of the Western annual, Howard Robey, Feature Editor of the year book, and Chester Travelstead, Business Manager of this year's edition, will go to Nashville on Saturday to read the final proofs of the current issue of the "Talisman."

The three student officials will be accompanied by Joe Lafferty, editor of the Herald, and John Thomas, who will assist in searching for errors and imperfections.

Even if corrections are necessary, it is quite probable that the books will be distributed the following week.

BUSINESS SCHOOL HAS VISIT FROM PROMINENT CUBAN

Books Presented University Library By Cuban Author

Mr. Garado Castellanos, of Cuba, came to Bowling Green last week to again place his son, Rusten, in the local Business University.

Mr. Castellanos is one of the most outstanding men in Cuba, having served for thirty-three years as director of transportation in that Republic, and in addition to his other activities, has become a distinguished author.

He has written and had published some eighteen books on historical and geographical subjects, some of which books he presented to the University library during his visit to the school. He has offered to send some of his other works in the near future.

Rusten Castellanos has previously attended the Business University, and is returning to finish his training.

Mr. Garado Castellanos is reported as being the most interesting man to visit the University for some time, and his unusual manner and attitude toward the United States were most pleasing to all who met him.

Success Story No. 7

JOHN L. FOUST

Just a few years ago, it seems—so said the men who have been long connected with the Business University—John Foust as a mere boy enrolled in this school where he devoted himself to the Teacher Training Course.

When he left the Business University he took charge of the little commercial work that was then being done in the Owensboro, Kentucky, High School. All John Foust needed was a foothold.

From that position he arose to the superintendency of the City Schools of Owensboro, and on the strength of his success in his profession, his fine character, the high esteem in which he is held, his fellow teachers recently elevated him to the exalted position of President of the Kentucky Education Association.

SENIOR CLASS AT WESTERN PRESENT SUNDIAL AS GIFT

Erected in Memory Of Pro- fessor Lowe G. Johnson

The Senior Class on the Hilltop have placed a stone sundial in the garden behind Potter Hall as their class gift to the College.

The base of the sundial is inscribed as follows: "Erected in Memory of Lowe G. Johnson by the Senior Class of 1933."

Mr. Lowe G. Johnson, before his death last January, was one of the most popular instructors on the staff of the History department, and sentiment was strongly in favor of the dedication of the gift to Mr. Johnson.

On the bronze face of the dial there is the following raised words, "My Hours are made of Sun and Shade."

The sundial was purchased by the Class from the proceeds of this year's successful Senior Play and from other class entertainments during the past year.

ADELINE GRISSOM CHOSEN TO GO TO MOUNTAIN LAUREL

Elected To Represent B. U. in Annual Festival At Pineville

Miss Adeline Grissom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Grissom of Bowling Green, was selected from a dozen candidates as the most representative beauty of the Business University in a contest held at the school last week, and will leave for the Mountain Laurel Festival at Pineville on June 9.

Miss Grissom was an honor graduate of the Bowling Green High School, and has been enrolled at the Business University for the past year.

The contest was held in response to a request from Governor Laffoon that the local school send a representative woman student to this year's festivities. In order to prevent a biased vote among the students, special pains were taken to prevent campaigning and electioneering, and all ballots were secret.

Of the twelve candidates, three girls remained in the semi-final ballot. These three were Miss Grissom, Miss Montgomery and Miss Fant. Miss Montgomery and Miss Grissom were the remaining nominees in the final ballot.

The Mountain Festival is one of Kentucky's greatest social events, and is held annually at Pineville while the rhododendrons are in bloom at Mountain Laurel. Girls from all Kentucky schools are selected by their fellow students, and the Queen of the festival is chosen from attending representatives.

Miss Grissom will be accompanied to Pineville by a small party of celebrants from the Business University who will leave Bowling Green on June 9.

Dr. Louis Mann, rabbi of the Chicago Sinai Congregation, will deliver the commencement address to the 1933 graduating class of the Bowling Green Business University the evening of May 29, it was announced by school authorities. Commencement exercises will be held at the State Street Methodist Church.

The "week-end" commencement plan used last year was so successful that it has been decided to follow the same policy this year. The series of events will start at 6:30 o'clock the evening of Saturday, May 27, when the Alumni banquet will be held in the dining room of the State Street Methodist Church. Claude Gentry of the university will preside as toastmaster.

Sunday morning, the baccalaureate sermon will be preached by Dr. Charles H. Pratt, of the Presbyterian Seminary at Louisville. These exercises will be held at the First Christian Church. Special music will be furnished by the church choir.

The Class Day program will be held at 10:15 on Monday morning in the Business University assembly hall. Three addresses will be made. The two-year class will be represented by Justin Green, the four-year class by Claude Gentry and the alumni by W. L. Hall.

faculty reception will be given to the graduates and their friends and relatives at the home of President J. L. Harman on College street. The commencement exercises will follow that evening.

WESTERN DIVIDES PAIR OF BATTLES WITH TECH TEAM

Errors Ruin Teacher Cause in Opener Which Goes Eleven Innings

Western and Tennessee Poly split a double header here last Saturday afternoon, the visitors winning the first game in eleven innings by a 2 to 1 count, and the Hilltoppers taking the final in seven innings, 4 to 0.

Foist (Big 'Un) West was on the mound for the Hilltoppers in the first game and allowed but four hits while striking out eleven batters. Half a dozen Hilltopper errors, however, got him into trouble on almost as many occasions and three of them figured in the eleventh inning scoring rally of the Techmen. Johnson, for the T. P. I., also allowed but five hits of which two were made by "Hooks" Harvey, first sacker.

In the nightcap, Jack Farmer occupied the mound and gave up but two base-knocks, while his opponent, Courley, allowed five bingles, four of which were put together in the fourth frame with a base on balls for all the Hilltopper runs. Farmer fanned ten men and allowed no enemy to reach third.

Western's next game is with University of Louisville here this afternoon at 3:45 o'clock.

The scores:

RAY W. FISHER TO RETURN FOR SUMMER SESSION

The Bowling Green Business University has announced the engagement of Mr. Ray W. Fisher of Oakland, California as an instructor in their current summer session.

Mr. Fisher was one of the most popular of last summer's staff, and he made many lasting friends among the local teachers and students and residents.

His work during the summer was reported as outstanding, and it is reported that many inquiries have been received about the possibilities of Mr. Fisher's return this year.

B. G. B. U. Notes

The Merry Melody Men, three young gentlemen of the city, gave a program at the Business University Chapel Monday morning, consisting of piano solos, trio singing, vocal solos and tap dancing.

Mr. Jesse Russell, just off the Cemetery Pike on the Ewings' Ford road has the most beautiful peony garden that has ever been developed in this section. On Tuesday he sent twenty-five shut-ins of the city very gorgeous flowers from the most choice of his garden. These were delivered by several groups of students of the Business University.

Miss Eugene Barwick entered the Business University this week. She formerly was a student here from her native state of Mississippi. About three years ago, she went to Harlan, Kentucky, to teach commercial subjects and has been there since then and will return again to her duties this fall.

President J. L. Harman will deliver three commencement addresses this week in Western Kentucky.

A special party of students under the supervision of Dean Arnold will make a trip to Mammoth and Onyx Caves Saturday morning, going by automobile. This was deferred from last Saturday because of rain.

Twelve years ago Mr. Ira Flatt, then of Columbia, Adair county, Kentucky, entered the Business University. He completed a course, and went to Chicago in June of 1921 on a visit, and he says he has been visiting there ever since.

He came to see the Business University Monday as he was passing through Kentucky, visiting his old friends on his way from Chicago to New Orleans to visit the branch plant of his company.

He is now the personal director of one of the largest manufacturing concerns in the city of Chicago. His growth in every particular from the time he left here twelve years ago has been exceptionally rapid and eventful.

Word has been received from the University of Minnesota that James Weldy, son of Mrs. Weldy, instructor of shorthand, is ranked among the best students at that University. His grades placed him among the highest six per cent of the students in the institution, which is far above a "B" average.

He is not only proving himself a brilliant student, but is also a prominent member of the school paper.

BOUQUETS GIVEN YOUNGEST, OLDEST MOTHERS ON HILL

Dr. Roemer Delivers Address in Mother's Day Ceremonies

Delivering the main address in a program dedicated to mothers far and near, Dr. Roemer, who is a noted educator of the South and is now connected with Peabody College at Nashville, spoke eloquently of the wonderful characteristics of all mothers of all ages and of the beauty of the unknown mother who is behind every man.

"It has always been and always will be that man will flee to mother for love, sympathy, understanding, and all those finer and deeper things of the human life!" While his gray-haired mother seated on the platform wiped the tears from her eyes, with these words Dr. Joseph Roemer sounded the keynote of the Mothers Day Celebration held at Western Teachers College last Friday morning.

Dr. Roemer's address was one of a number of features of the program.

A number of interesting contests were held to determine the "prize winning" mothers and Mrs. J. A. Peck of Bowling Green received a bouquet from the freshman class as the youngest mother present. Mrs. C. A. Vincent of Forest Park, received flowers from the sophomore class as being the mother having the largest number of children to attend Western. Ten members of the Vincent family have been students at the local college.

Mrs. Laura T. Nash of Campbellsburg, Ky., came the longest distance to attend the day's program. She traveled 210 miles. She received a beautiful bouquet from the junior class.

Mrs. Sarah A. Park, 1222 Kentucky street, was the oldest mother present. She is 80. Her bouquet was from the senior class.

Mrs. F. E. Hall, 92 year old resident of Auburn, was the oldest grandmother present and Professor J. R. Whitmer presented a bouquet to her.

Adolphus Roemer, father of the speaker of the morning, was the oldest father present, being 79 years of age. He received a purse presented by the Cherry Country Life Club.

JOHN SIMS STARS IN ONE OF PLAYS SLATED BY GUILD

Trilogy Will Conclude Present Season For Local Players

Extremely convincing in its tragic realism is the work of John Earl Sims in the role of Dyck, the condemned convict in "The Valiant," one of three one-act plays scheduled for next Monday and Tuesday nights, May 22 and 23, in the State Street Methodist Church auditorium. This trilogy of modern one-act plays representing three distinct types of drama will conclude the present season of the Bowling Green Players' Guild.

Prominent in the supporting cast of "The Valiant" is Paul Cochran, whose characterization of the firm, yet kind-hearted, warden of the prison is one of the most pleasing features of this tragic story of the heroism of an innocent man in the face of certain death. Pathos and sympathy are admirably blended in the delicate shading of the lines of Father Daly, chaplain of the prison, enacted by the Rev. Charles Leavelle. An interesting light is added to the story by the appearance of Anne Trigg Kreuger in the colorful portrayal of Josephine Paris, who feels that the tragedy of Dyck's execution is connected with her own life. Billy Craig in the role of the jailer is also a valuable addition to the cast.

Zona Gale's "Neighbors," including Mrs. James Blackburn and Virginia McChesney in its cast, and "Maker of Dreams," featuring Dr. Earl Moore of the Teachers College faculty, Chester Travelstead and Catherine Simmons, will vary the evening's entertainment with racy bits of humor and beautiful flashes of philosophic musing.

Success Story No. 6

VICTOR BOATNER

Victor V. Boatner, President of the Peoria & Pekin Union Railway, graduated from Bowling Green Business University in 1901, and immediately accepted an office position with the road which he now heads.

Mr. Boatner is a native of Mississippi, and received his early training in that state before entering the Business University here. Mr. Boatner says that his rise is due to his intense study and application, and unceasing labors for his employers.

Mr. Boatner entered the Peoria & Pekin services as a stenographer, and went through various departments as a train dispatcher, train master, superintendent, and finally made the jump to executive positions which climaxed in the presidency itself.

Mr. Boatner's career is a simple example of a brilliant youth who rose to power and prominence because he devoted his spare time to study, after working hard during working hours.

Capitol

Followers of Joe E. Brown will see the versatile comedian in what is probably the greatest role of his long laugh-making career when his latest First National picture, "Elmer The Great" opens at the Capitol Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

There is every reason why this hilarious comedy-drama of big league baseball should fit Joe E. Brown more perfectly than any role he has yet played. Joe's middle name should have been baseball, for if making millions laugh is his business, baseball is his hobby. In fact, it's been more than a hobby with Joe, for he was once a big league player himself. For several years he has maintained his own semi-professional team in Southern California, and recently he topped all his previous baseball activities by buying an interest in the Kansas City baseball club.

Elmer Kane has three interests in life—eating, sleeping and baseball; and he's a champion at all three.

As is this were not enough to consume all of one man's time and energy, Elmer proceeds to fall in love, with side-splitting complications developing too fast for him.

How Elmer gets into jail, is liberated only to fall into a brand new disgrace and be ruled off the team on the eve of the World Series games, and how he finally goes to bat and pulls the game out of the mud—literally as well as figuratively—is said to make one of the most uproariously funny pictures that the screen has seen this year.

A splendid cast of players second only to Joe E. Brown's fun-making efforts. Patricia Ellis is the girl with whom Joe is in love. Frank McHugh has the role of Joe's buddy, "High-Hips" Healy. Preston S. Foster is seen as the manager of the Chicago club, and Claire Dodd, Berton Churchill, Emma Dunn and Sterling Holloway have other important roles.

The picture is an adaptation of the stage success by Ring Lardner and George M. Cohan, with Tom Geraghty being the author of the screen-play.
